Research Center, Army Command Sites Said to Be Linked

'They are not dead who live in hearts they leave behind.'

HUGH ROBERT ORR

The Army Aviation Systems Command, sought by Quad-Cityans for the largely-unused Granite City Army installation, has been verbally linked to the site of a proposed multi-million-dollar Army aviation research center, it was disclosed Friday.

AVSCOM, based in St. Louis, is the parent command of the local Army base, which has become primarily a support center serving the Systems Command and other military personnel on permanent or temporary duty in this metropolitan region.

Because many high-quality buildings are available here, and because AVSCOM has consistent and expensive quarters in St. Louis, there has been speculation that the Systems Command might be moved across the river to Granite City, possibly this fall.

It was not immediately clear during the weekend whether the coupling of AVSCOM's site with the proposed research site would help or harm the prospects of Granite City being selected.

AVSCOM employs 6,000 persons and the research center would have a staff of 3,500.

James H. Reed, director of the Municipal Business Development Commission, City of St. Louis, proposed to the Army on March 21 that the research facility be established at Lambert Airport.

On April 12, the St. Louis Research Council, claiming it has been developing its proposal for five years, also asked the Army to build the research center in this region. However, the Council listed four possible sites, omitting Lambert.

The sites suggested were Weldon Spring or the area of the Spirit of St. Louis Airport, both in Missouri, or Parks Bl. State Airport or Scott Air Force Base, both in Illinois.

The research center plan was shelved in 1969 due to Army budget limitations but has since been revived, with both St. Louis and Fort Worth, Tex., showing interest.

Current indications are that AVSCOM will go wherever the aviation laboratory is located.

The research center eventually would require 1,000 acres adjacent to an existing airport or 1,200 acres if not adjacent. About 110 acres would be developed initially as a headquarters and engineering complex. Missourians seeking to block establishment of a major new airport at Waterloo-Columbia, Ill., say Lambert could not house the research center and also sit in operation as a general airport.

They blame St. Louis city officials—who favor Waterloo-Columbia—for using "trickery" in submitting Lambert as a possible research site.

A reverse charge of deception, with trickery allegedly by the anti-Waterloo Missourians, was voiced during the weekend by Francis J. Foley, St. Clair County Board chairman, who said a new "Missouri-St. Louis" airport board "is serving no purpose other than to hold up progress and the benefits that a new regional airport would provide the metropolitan area."

Regional Forum Sets Area Goals Hearing

A metropolitan goals hearing sponsored by the Regional Forum of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Venice Park District building, 321 Broadway, Venice, it was announced today.

George Wendel, chairman of the forum, has been charged with the responsibility of updating regional goals adopted by the Gateway Council.

Categories of regional goals to be discussed will include physical environment and natural resources, justice, transportation, employment and economic development, government and human resources and social welfare.

Memorial Flag Flown By Police First Time

A special flag denoting the death of a police officer in the line of duty within the state was flown here Saturday for the first time since the flags were presented by the Elks Lodge a year ago.

The memorial flag—a purple and black pennant bearing a gold star in the center—was flown over the Granite City hall Saturday following the fatal shooting of Patrolman Robert Gallowich of the Chicago Police Department during a burglary investigation.

Chief of Police Ronald Veizer said it was the first time the flag has been flown since the pennants were presented to Granite City, Madison, Venice and Illinois State Police in Law and Order Day ceremonies conducted by the Elks Lodge in May 1971.

The flags are to be used only as a memorial to a law enforcement officer who is killed in the line of duty.

Liquor, Beer Stolen

Liquor and beer were stolen in a burglary of the Why Not Tavern, 200 Hildebrand St., Cloverleaf, during the weekend, it was reported to the Madison County Sheriff's Department. Taken were seven cases of beer, three half-pints of whiskey, a half-pint of gin, a half gallon of vodka and three cigarette lighters. Entry was gained by forcing the front door.

$1,331,039 GC Tax Bill Increase

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
Taxpayers of Granite City Township will dig deeper into their pocketbooks to pay this year's tax bill—to the tune of $1,331,039 more than last year.

Granite Cityans, all of whom live within the boundaries of six separate taxing agencies, will be billed for a total of $11,099,572 in 1971 taxes, payable within about 60 days under a new collection system set up by the Madison County Treasurer's office.

The 1971 tax charge for Granite City Township, extended last week by the office of County Clerk Eudalia Hotz at Edwardsville, is $1.3 million higher than the 1970 billing of $9,678,533 because of substantially higher tax rates for Granite City School District 9, the city of Granite City, and the county.

City Treasurer Paul Rutledge said he received the township tax books Thursday afternoon and has completed preparations for billing which will get under way by a crew of about ten typists in the Civil Defense Building today.

Tax extensions for Nameoki, Venice and Chouteau Townships have not been completed, Miss Hotz said, but probably will be determined for all three of the Quad-City townships within the next two weeks. Substantial tax rate increases also have been announced for those areas and will result in higher tax bills throughout the Quad-Cities.

Tax billing for Granite City taxpayers will amount to $10,948,773 for the 1971 tax year, payable this summer, while the tax billing against railroad property in Granite City taxpayers this year totals $1,327,034, while the Granite City Township increase in railroad taxes amounts to only $4,004.

On the basis of these figures, the tax rise charged against local Granite City taxpayers this year totals $1,327,034, while the Granite City Township increase in railroad taxes amounts to only $4,004.

The actual tax dollar increase in Granite City this year amounts to 13.7% over last year's total billing.

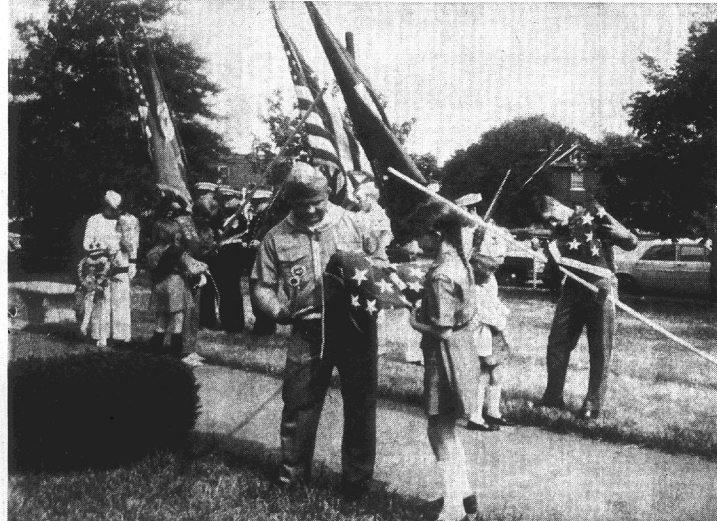

Under the new tax collection system, Granite City Township taxpayers will be faced with the problem of paying their bills within 30 days after the bills are sent out, or suffer a 1% penalty for each month on the first installment after that date.

Rutledge said he plans to protest the system under which he has only about 30 days to complete billing procedure, and then only 30 days more in which to make local collections before applying a penalty.

Taxes are being collected this year under a program made necessary by the new 1970 Constitution which prohibits use of any kind, including the township collectors. As a result, township collectors this year are making collections for the county and will receive none of the commission fees that formerly were given the collectors for making local tax collections.

Cable Mishap Halts Some Phones Tuesday

Telephone service was impaired in the Pontoon Beach area last week after a construction crew installing guard rails at Pontoon Road and Long Lake damaged two underground cables.

About 1,600 telephone customers in the 797 and 831 prefixes were affected.

Dale Kaeshofer, Granite City manager for Southwestern Bell, said telephone company repairs had service entirely restored about three hours later.

"Our people had located the cable and staked its route four days earlier to avoid just this type of accident. Either some of the stakes were knocked down or removed over the weekend, or we did not have all parts of the cable route located. Whatever the reason, we're relieved that the damage wasn't more serious than it was and that we were able to quickly restore service," Kaeshofer said.

Robert D. Derwin, Carlyle, reported at 8 a.m. Monday that his auto was struck by a woman leaving an alley on 20th Street near Washington Avenue. He said she stopped but left, telling him she would return after taking her baby home, but she did not come back.

Quad-Cityans Honor Soldier Dead In Areawide Memorial Services

Despite threatening weather, Quad-Cityans turned out in large numbers yesterday to pay tribute to the area's war dead in special services held in Granite City, Madison and Venice.

More than 100 persons gathered at Memorial Park across from the DAV office to witness the annual "Parade of Flags" sponsored by Disabled American Veterans Post 53, and to participate in memorial services for Granite City's deceased war veterans.

American flags were borne in a procession of Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts, preceded by a Marine and Navy Color Guard and an Air Force rifle squad. The parade left 18th Street and Grand Avenue at 9:30 a.m., marching down Grand Avenue to 21st Street and to the park. A memorial address was delivered by Joseph Hefferty, service officer of the DAV Post and Department of Illinois Deputy Chief of Staff. A wreath was placed at the Memorial Park Fountain by Mrs. Lillian Hefferty, past department commander and Parade of Flags chairman for the local post.

Scouts Raise Flag
Girl Scouts, each aided by a Boy Scout, attached the American flags to staffs, each bearing the name of a veteran who died at war. A salute was fired by the rifle squad and "Taps" was played by a bugler.

Approximately 180 persons attended services on the lawn of the Venice-Madison American Legion Post Home at 740 Broadway, Venice, where crosses represent deceased veterans were decorated with American flags. Kenneth Hinson, Fifth Division Commander and a member of the post, delivered the memorial address and officers of the Legion Auxiliary and Girl Scout Mothers placed a wreath at the tomb.

Walter T. Simmons of Venice placed a wreath at the John F. Kennedy Memorial in front of the post home. The Venice services began at 10 a.m.

Arvels Post 209 conducted services yesterday at 9:30 a.m. at the Madison Memorial Center where a wreath was placed in honor of deceased American Soldiers.

Daughters of Union Veterans, Tent 90, conducted services today at 10 a.m. at the memorial on the lawn of Granite City Hall. A wreath was placed at the marker by officers of the organization.

Participate in Services
Representatives from Quad-City veterans' organizations took part in Memorial Day ceremonies Sunday at 10:15 a.m. at Soldier's Memorial in St. Louis.

The Illinois veterans' group were formally invited to participate in the program.

The services were conducted by Disabled American Veterans St. Louis Chapter 1, under the supervision of Andrew Sgroi, DAV official and national Armet bugler.

The principal address was delivered by Brig. General Samuel W. Collins, U. S. Army, AVSCOM commander. Other dignitaries participating were Mrs. J. S. Gervantes of St. Louis, Brig. General M. Schlemmer, U. S. Army, and Harold Menden, DAV commander.

More than 80 wreaths were placed on Soldier's Memorial, the largest number of floral tributes bestowed in recent years. The wreaths were given by Scott Air Force Base Firing Squad and "Taps" was played by Sgroi, escorted by Gale Conrad and Richard Jadrach.

Introduced to the gathering were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Freize of Venice, whose son, Marine Melvin Freize, died of wounds in Vietnam on April 23, 1969.

It was the local Marine's death that sparked the start of a nationwide program of lowering flags by official decree in communities following the death of a serviceman in action.

Among those taking part in the ceremonies from here were representatives of Granite City DAV Chapter 53 Auxiliary—Mrs. Lillian Hefferty, past Illinois DAV Auxiliary state commander, Mrs. Irene Hoelter, Chapter 53 Auxiliary commander, Mrs. Mary Buser and Mrs. Ruth Nune; Amvets Post 51 and Auxiliary—Steve Conkovich, public relations officer, Mrs. Agnes Conkovich, Americanism chairman, Mrs. Betty Wilkins, Post 51 Auxiliary president, and Kenneth Hinson, Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307 official.

Pucinski Will Stress A 'Workhorse' Theme

By NANCY DAVY
Copley News Service
Springfield — Congressman Roman Pucinski will be pounding hard at his "workhorse" theme during his battle to unseat U. S. Sen. Charles Percy.

Pucinski, with 13 years of seniority built up in the House and a solid record, particularly in education legislation, is not well known Downstate.

He hopes to remedy that problem before the campaign heats up and will schedule numerous appearances in southern and central Illinois this summer.

The horse imagery which has become Pucinski's campaign slogan is an 1831ism, coined when Pucinski was visiting former President Johnson's Texas ranch.

Johnson assured Pucinski he could beat the charismatic Percy by emphasizing his well-earned reputation for hard work versus Percy's glamour image. Pucinski's attendance record, for example, considerably tops that of the wide-traveling Percy.

"I'm running against the greatest waffler on the floor of the Senate," said Pucinski. Percy is the only member of the Senate who argues against himself in the same speech."

Pucinski claims Percy is "using the state of Illinois as a stepping stone."

Pucinski will open a Springfield headquarters in June. A Downstate coordinator has not been named yet. Attorney John Gwinn is heading the Pucinski campaign statewide from Chicago at present.

Daughter Aurie Pucinski, 25, is office manager in Chicago and is paying particular attention to young voters, both on and off campus.

Pucinski is sacrificing a chance to move to a top position on the powerful House Education and Labor Committee by making this race against the popular Percy, but he feels Illinois needs a stronger spokesman in the Senate, and a Democratic president, too.

"Nixon can make all the trips to Moscow and Peking, he wants," Pucinski said. "He won't be able to obscure the outrageous mismanagement of domestic affairs."

Republicans "planned this recession," Pucinski charged, and by their deficit spending policies have continued to fuel inflation, thereby having "the worst of both economic worlds."

St. Peter's Scene of Ivie-Taylor Wedding

Miss Marie Ellen Taylor, wearing a bridal gown of white peau de soie trimmed with delicate Venise lace flowers, became the bride of Specialist Five Michael Clay Ivie, Saturday evening, at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

Her veil of bridal illusion was held in place with a white satin bow embellished with tiny lace motifs and rhinestones.

The gown was designed with a fitted bodice, featuring a high neckline, long sleeves, and a full skirt.

A band of matching lace gently gathered fullness of the sleeves at the elbow and above the wide pointed cuffs extending over the hands. The natural waistline was marked with a white satin ribbon and rows of lace appliques, enhanced the front of the A-line silhouette skirt that flowed into a chapel train.

She carried a white wicker basket filled with white pom pons, red sweetheart roses and dark blue baby breath.

The Rev. Robert L. Kottelhut performed the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the sanctuary. Arrangements of white summer flowers and satin bows marking the pews decorated the church.

Larry Berry, organist, accompanied Howard Masie, soloist, as he sang "Ave Marie," The Lord's Prayer and "Because."

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Taylor, 2615 Edwards St., and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ivie, 250 Hodges Ave. A sister of the bride, Mrs. Coleen Roderick, was matron of honor and Miss Jane Cowan and Miss Jo Marie Harding served as bridesmaids.

Jennifer and Jon Roderick, a niece and nephew of the bride, were flower girl and ringbearer. The attendants wore identical gowns of navy blue voile, designed with an "old fashioned look" created with wide heavy lace.

A circular yoke of lace attractively detailed the fitted bodice and formed the high Victorian neckline. Wide bands of matching lace accented the natural waistline and cuffed the long full sheer sleeves.

They wore picture hats of red, white and blue spun straw with white braided around the crown ending in streamers. Each girl carried a plateau basket of red carnations.

Kenneth Herman was best man and Richard Duft and Gerald Roderick were groomsmen. John Hutson and Dale Hardesty seated the guests.

For the wedding, both moth-

The wedding of Miss Victoria Joan Mangiaracino, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy J. Mangiaracino, 505 Kirkpatrick Homes and Garvin Aaron Butler III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garvin A. Butler, 5 Nassau St., was solemnized May 13 at First United Presbyterian Church.

Yellow carnations, pom poms and white gladioli, with light candles in branched candelabra, provided the setting for the seven o'clock ceremony, performed by the Rev. David Maxton.

Preceding the bride down the white carpeted aisle where Mrs. Sandra Kay Ragan, matron of honor, Mrs. Carol Mangiaracino, Mrs. Barbara Sheppard and Mrs. Sherry Stefanski, bridesmaids.

They were gowned in identical dresses of light green crepe over tulle, designed in Empire style with long sleeves.

Each attendant wore a wide brimmed hat in a matching color and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and pom poms.

Rachel Stefanski, flower girl, wore a floral print frock in spring colors and carried a miniature bouquet similar to the bridesmaids. Tally Ragan was the ringbearer.

Jerry Clark served as best man with Dennis Mangiaracino, Mike Nowell, Sam Stefanski, Larry and Gerald Mangiaracino and Mark Speer completing the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of peau de soie over chiffon featuring an Empire bodice of lace with a sweetheart neckline. Matching lace, extending to the sleeves, created a drop shoulder effect and cuffed the long sheer sleeves.

A Juliet headpiece of tiny pearls held in place a cathedral length veil edged in a delicate scalloped lace and she carried a white Birge topset with white gladioli and yellow sweetheart roses.

The couple is residing at 5 Nassau St., after a wedding trip to Tan Tar A Resort at the Lake of the Ozarks.

ACNE IS NO JOKE

Nobody has come up with proof that treating acne helps to curb juvenile delinquency. But medical authorities have reached the conclusion that many youngsters with severe cases of acne often feel "left out" in the social scene. This has been known to lead to unfortunate personality problems.

But why should it? We know that physicians can treat acne successfully in a great majority of cases. Medicines are available which can help reduce the severity of acne—and this in itself can do wonders for a sensitive boy or girl. If your teenager has acne, we suggest that you consult your doctor as the very first step. Should he prescribe medication for treatment, we will have it available in our prescription laboratory.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

About This Question:

"Fire consumed the home nextdoor — firemen barely saved our home from going up in flames from the heat engendered. Later we learned that quantities of old furnishings and paper stored in the basement and attic fed the flames. Shouldn't this warn all householders to get rid of excess materials and rubbish during spring housecleaning?"

Saga of U.S. History in Stamps Told in New Book

"Stamps & Stories. The Exciting Saga of U.S. History Told in Stamps," has been published by the United States Postal Service and is on sale now at the post offices in Granite City and Madison.

Postmasters Theodore "Ted" Overbeck and William Clinton said this is the first U.S. Postal Service book to fully illustrate U.S. stamps in color and to list the values on each issue from 1847 through mid-1972. The book was prepared by the editor of Scott Publishing Co., the nation's oldest printer of stamp catalogs.

While pertinent philatelic information such as Scott identification numbers is included, the book extends far beyond the range of a catalog. "Stamps & Stories" contains illustrated stories covering many highlights in history that have been portrayed on stamps. The history as told by the stamp itself has been expanded by the book text to provide insights into the people and events portrayed. There are 114 stories to augment the stamp. About 2,000 stamps are reproduced. As in no other U.S. Postal Service publication, the book contains illustrations of the postage and should enhance the fascination of stamp collecting.

Glossary of Terms
One chapter is titled "How to Be a Happy Stamp Collector." There is a glossary of philatelic terms, for those who are not quite sure what "tetebeche" or "laid paper" means.

Stamps issued by the Confederate States of America are reproduced as are those of the United Nations and a sampling of stamps from many countries. The book has 224 pages and is convenient pocket size 4 1/2 by 7 1/4 inches. It is available in a paperback edition for $2.00. A cloth-bound book is the same size also is available in a limited number of post offices which have philatelic operations and from the Philatelic Sales Unit, Washington, D.C., 20036. The price is $3.95 plus 50c postage charge per order for mail orders.

Writing Clinic Assists Students With Term Papers

Students at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern do not have to rely on the term paper industry for help in their writing assignments. The Writing Clinic, organized last fall by the English department under the direction of Barbara Lawrence, Originally designed to enlarge tutorial services for freshman composition students, the clinic is now open to all registered in any course. No appointment is needed.

In addition to Miss Lawrence, 10 teaching assistants help with the clinic, located in Room 0026 in the Peck Classroom Building. Hours are from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. weekdays. "If a student is afraid to write," she says, "we can help him with his format, bibliography, sentence structure and grammar. Often it is only an organizational problem. So Miss Lawrence, instruction librarian, and her staff at Lovejoy Library help us with the mechanics of researching."

Records show more than 500 students availed themselves of clinic services during the quarter.

"We have no statistical evidence of the clinic's success," Miss Lawrence said, "only that students who come back or tell us about improvement in their grades, and instructors who tell us they are pleased with the results. Some of the faculty ask students to bring their papers to the clinic before turning them in."

"Previously, a student who had difficulty writing had no place to go," Miss Lawrence pointed out. "Now he does. At least to keep students from plagiarizing, we believe it has helped."

Mobile Home Owners Still Must Register

Owners of mobile homes are being urged to register their homes under Madison County's privilege tax ordinance despite an opinion by Attorney General William J. Scott that the tax is unconstitutional. Roger Delcourt, Madison County tax administrator, said Friday.

Delcourt pointed out that Scott's ruling "is just an opinion and does not repeal the law until it is proven unconstitutional in the Supreme Court, or it is changed by the General Assembly."

In a letter to township tax assessors, Delcourt said, "The Department of Public Health has approved an extension of time for all mobile home owners to register. The last date to register is June 15 at the Madison County License and Mobile Home Tax Department, 405 Center St., Edwardsville.

"The assessors from each township should carry the mobile homes on their books in case the law is repealed, so that the mobile home owners will not get off tax free for the year 1972."

Miss Patricia A. Brisky, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brisky of Collinsville and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crnkovich of Granite City, has received the bachelor of science degree in nursing at Incarnate Word College, San Antonio, Tex.

Steel Output Is Higher in April

Washington — Domestic steel output edged upward once again during April, continuing a steady rise which began last fall.

American Iron and Steel Institute said this week that U. S. mills poured 11,500,000 tons of steel during the month, a slight gain over March's 11,588,000-ton production, lifting output during the first four months of 1972 to 43,159,000 tons.

During the same period of last year, when consumers were stockpiling steel against the possibility of an industry-wide strike, steel production in the U. S. reached 47,358,000 tons.

Once again in April, the basic oxygen furnace produced more steel than both other major processes combined. B-O-Fs made 6,488,000 tons during the month, compared with 3,062,000 tons for open hearths and 2,040,000 tons for electric furnaces.

In the first four months of 1972, oxygen furnaces poured 23,969,000 tons of steel, compared with 11,430,000 tons produced by open hearths and 7,763,000 tons made in electric furnaces. In the same period of 1971, B-O-F output was 23,625,000 tons, compared to 15,931,000 tons for open hearths and 7,802,000 tons for electric furnaces.

The steelmaking index, based on average 1967 production as 100, stood at 110.8 in April, 107.3 in March and 98.7 in February.

Don't Deride 'Progress' and Slash Living Standards; Doom Forecasts Are Inaccurate

Guest comment by Arch N. Booth, executive vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, a federation representing a membership of 5,000,000 firms, organizations and individuals:

It is time to call a halt to progress? Must we deliberately bank the fires of our economy and plan for a lower standard of living? There are people who think so. And they claim a "scientific" basis for their belief.

In the summer of 1970, some researchers at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology programmed a computer to tell them how long the earth's resources can support us, if present rates of growth continue. The answer they came up with was not very long.

They concluded that either overpopulation, insufficient food supply, resource depletion, pollution or some combination of these factors will inevitably result in disaster, unless draconian measures are taken now to prevent it.

The MIT work was sponsored by a group of prominent economists and businessmen known as the Club of Rome. The resulting report, "The Limits to Growth," caused quite a stir when it was published. There are those who say it is a legitimate one, but there are more than enough holes in the Club of Rome's methodology to warrant considerably more research before we destroy the present in the name of the future.

Such computer-generated predictions rest on assumptions about the future course of present trends. These assumptions are not necessarily correct.

For example, a key assumption made by the MIT researchers is "loaded" the dice that only conclusions of disaster were possible from all subsequent manipulation of the data.

The assumption was that population, pollution and consumption will grow in a geometric progression, while the offsetting effect of technology will increase only arithmetically.

The risk—and the naïveté—of such "expert" projections can easily be grasped by a little "backward projections": Imagine an eighteenth century philosopher tackling the same problem. He might calculate quite convincingly the point at which material progress must halt because of the known limitations of the horse as a power source.

In fact, someone did calculate such a limit for the City of London, based upon the ability of the municipal sanitation system to cope with horse manure. But what would our eighteenth century philosopher have proved, besides the fact that he could have no way of foreseeing the technological developments of the next 200 years?

In fact, technology has often moved by quantum jumps, rather than arithmetically. Travel by automobile is five to 10 times faster than travel by horse. Travel by airplane is 10 times faster than travel by automobile. The transistor and its descendants use only a tiny fraction of the power required by a vacuum tube for the same work. And how can we even quantify such differences as that between electronic communication and the methods which

Prime Choice or Good? Marbling Key Factor in Deciding Beef Grade

Before May departs, we'll note for the record that it is observed as "Beef Month" in Illinois.

The month has been duly proclaimed by Governor Ogilvie and its theme is "Feasting on Beef." (Well, hardly anything.)

The Illinois beef industry supplies about 20% of Illinois cash farm income.

Corn, hogs, beef and soybeans rank in that order as income sources. They are close competitors for the lead role; but corn and hogs supply about the same total as corn and soybeans. Together, the four account for 80% of all Illinois cash farm income.

For the U.S. as a whole, beef supplies 20% to 25% of all cash farm income—more than hogs and about the same as corn and soybeans. Of the products combined, the two closest competitors.

In Illinois, the Jan. 1, 1972 inventory of all cattle and calves on farms was 3,400,000 head—an increase of 5% over January 1971—with a total value of $700 million.

This count includes stocker and feeder cattle, feedlot inventory, all beef and dairy cow herds, bulls, calves and herd replacements.

The January 1972 inventory of beef cows and heifers that have preeded it? Nor is it safe to assume that we will use raw materials the same way in the future that we use them today and, based upon that assumption, calculate the depletion rate.

Aluminum could not have been foreseen as a substitute for iron until the development of a practical method of refining it in large quantities. For that matter, there was a time when iron could not have been foreseen as a substitute for bronze.

Similar questions may be raised about other projections used by the Club. In retrospect, population growth forecasts have proved notoriously unreliable. U.S. demographers are currently scratching their heads because our population is not growing at anything like the rate predicted by the "experts" only a few years ago.

Further, it is a mistake to assume that overpopulation in, say, India or Latin America will necessarily spell disaster for Europe and the U.S., however undesirable it may be in terms of human suffering.

The question of where "growth" is taking us is a valid and important one. But so far, nothing has been "proved" to justify the chaos and hardship that would immediately result from deliberately throwing monkeywrench into the gears of the world's most advanced economies.

Public Should Urge Governor to Sign Bill Dividing Levee District into Two Good Ones

Dispatches from Springfield report some hesitation on the part of Governor Richard B. Ogilvie in signing a bill to split the East Side Levee and Sanitary District because it does not solve the overall problems of hillside drainage in Madison and St. Clair Counties.

We fervently hope he approves the division into two districts, and we point out that it was never intended to, nor could it, remedy the hillside drainage needs, a huge, costly—and separate—issue.

In one of several crippling vetoes which did immense harm to the Quad-Cities and Madison County, former Governor Kerner once destroyed a Granite City initiative to have the city destroy a Granite City industrial park involving separation of storm and sanitary lines. Kerner's veto message made no sense, but it seemed politically expedient to him at the time; former Mayor Fields of East St. Louis apparently had lost Levee District control and did not want his foes to have $10 million to spend.

Fields is no longer mayor and has dropped his opposition to splitting the district (the Granite City project no longer is legislative factor, either). But reports indicate the present East St. Louis mayor, a strong Ogilvie supporter, may not vote for the bill.

An aide to Gov. Ogilvie would be off-base if he recommended a veto because of the hillside problem, a phony link which was transference when Mr. Kerner used it so unfavourably years ago.

The aide also would be wrong if he said the "main thrust of the current bill is to evenly dole out patronage in the Democratically-controlled levee district."

Patronage is not the issue. The issue is an improper "marriage" of two diverse, separate communities, the Quad-Cities and East St. Louis, which for many years has threatened the public in choosing trustees who would deal effectively and efficiently with levee and drainage problems.

With no portion of the electorate having a way to vote on the total making of the board, democratic (with a small "d") processes have failed and there has been much waste and irresponsibility. It just hasn't worked, and the uneasy political lines have been a big part of the difficulty.

A fair return on local property tax dollars is a valid, proper goal—and one which Governor Ogilvie can endorse. But he is not endorsing the bill to split the levee district into two manageable, cohesive, responsive-to-the-public governmental entities.

At Quad-Cities, who want both improved services and a tax break for all these years of "pouring money down a rathole" ought to let Governor Ogilvie know—and promptly—that they support the proposal to create two good districts instead of one bad one.

Observers say that the consistent flavor and palatability of beef provided through grocery stores has been a big factor in increasing consumption.

Another government grade appropriate for finished beef is USDA Good. Beef grade Good contains less fat but also has less flavor and juiciness than Choice beef.

The main factors that determine grade are: age of the animal, shape of the carcass and marbling. The amount of fat interspersed within the meat.

Age and conformation do not vary much in the average adult population of cattle finished for slaughter in 1969 to 1970.

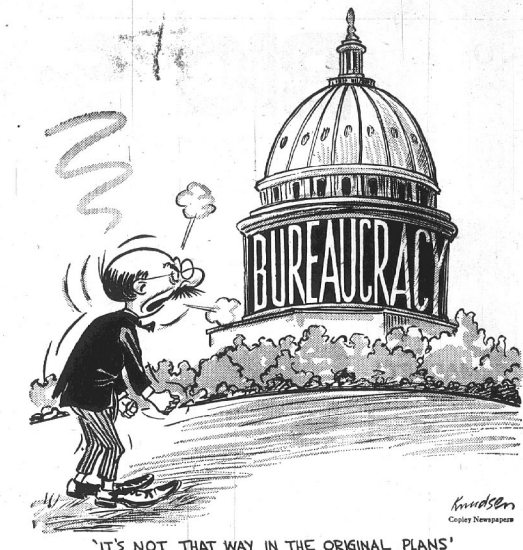

Marbling is the primary factor determining grade. Producers can increase marbling by feeding their carcasses by feeding longer periods.

Current consumer demands for beef require the cattle fed for a longer period to make USDA Choice, or close to it, but with an extra pound of fat.

Farmers can produce a lean beef through control of breeding and feeding of the cattle, but they must consider consumer preference if they want to sell a big volume of cattle at a desirable price.

Beef cattle breeders constantly seek ways to improve the yield of quality meat from their animals. But it's feeding—more than the breeding—that makes beef what it is today.

It is important to realize that a good beef—the tender, juicy kind—must have some fat trim around it. It's impossible to get marbling—the interspersing of fat in meat cuts—without get-

Bureaucracy's 'Solution': Add More Bureaucracy

Copley News Service

It can be said without much fear of contradiction, even from the public officials themselves, that government is not serving people in the way that they wish to be served. The fault does not lie with the public servants, who are by and large sincere, energetic and dedicated people.

However, it isn't long before something happens to just about everyone who finds himself on the public's payroll.

However, idealistic, however determined he might be, the public servant soon is encompassed by an almost impenetrable bureaucracy that feeds upon itself and has one answer for all problems—more bureaucracy.

Take, for example George Romney, the secretary of Housing and Urban Development, an eminent, successful and sincere American.

When he assumed office, Mr. Romney energetically tackled the problem of inadequate housing in the "inner cities."

Now, after three brief years, Mr. Romney admits that the program is a failure. Indeed it is. The federal subsidy of inner city housing has driven private business out.

Maladministration and waste are rampant, and it is estimated that in the next few years 240,000 government-subsidized houses will be abandoned by their tenants at a cost to taxpayers of $2.4 billion.

Still, the solution proposed is the same—more federal money and more federal programs.

In another area, 168 federal agencies are spending $9.1 billion a year directly to help persons overcome poverty.

An eloquent comment on the programs' effectiveness came when Sen. Abraham Ribicoff asked anyone to produce one single person who has broken out of the poverty cycle as a result of the federal effort. He has had no answer.

Stagnation is another example of stereotyped psychology. In recent years, the United States has spent $11.5 billion to assist children who are behind in their learning to catch up with their peers.

The pattern is the same and the examples are many in the federal bureaucracy. If a program does not work, or if it is unresponsive to the public, the answer always is: more money and another application of bureaucracy will solve the problem.

That is not exactly the way it really happens. The President's Commission on School Financing believes this seesaw has cost $8 billion.

It's a shame anyone missed that ampie's speech. Each might have felt a touch of compassion for a man who was reduced to the status of a guard if he continued to harass the officials, he stated he was in no way involved.

But it is not exactly the way it happened, but no matter; let's get to the real point.

Unimpaired are paid to do a job. The pay is lousy and the rewards are few, but most do it because they love sports.

There are almost all present or former ball players who just want to stay close to the game.

My husband is an umpire—not the one involved. But for $5, he has been threatened with "letting his name be put on every unprintable name imaginable, had his car stripped and all his equipment stolen, and much more."

They accept this as the time of their lot in life. But despite what most people believe, one dime to sit in the stands is not a license to kill the umpire.

The park district is not run by the money received at the stands. The stands were put there for the convenience of family and friends who want to relax and watch the players in conflict.

Do fans need a lecture on conduct at games? It appears a few do.

It's almost appalling the way some adults carry on at an event that is supposed to emphasize fair play, good conduct, teamwork and, yes, sportsmanship.

No wonder kids riot in the stands, demanding their rights as they infringe upon all others.

They only learn by the example we adults set! Everyone can root their hearts out without ever saying an unkind word about anything.

The important word here is respect. Respect for the sport and its rules and for those who play and officiate.

There are no prima donnas in amateur sports and the umpires are there to see that everyone follows the rules. It's as simple as that. It's all of rules that, in order for us to

State Status—Await Action on Car Tax Refunds

By RAY SERATI
Copley News Service

Springfield—Illinois lawmakers are still wrestling with legislation that would provide new car tax refunds.

The refunds are due those persons who purchased a new car between last Aug. 15 and Dec. 10.

On Dec. 10, the federal excise tax was repealed retroactive to Aug. 15. Therefore, Illinois did not have a right to levy on the amount of the federal excise tax on new car buyers.

The Revenue Department has been showered with letters and telephone calls from persons who purchased new cars during that time period to see where they stand on a possible refund. Department officials have been telling these taxpayers that the money must be appropriated by the General Assembly.

The General Assembly is expected to approve legislation providing money for the refund before it adjourns in June.

If a person purchased a $4,000 automobile during that time period, the federal excise tax on it would total $280. On that $280, there is a 5% state sales tax charge which totals $14. It is that portion of the state sales tax which must be refunded if it was paid between Aug. 15 and Dec. 10.

State officials estimate that during the specified time period, 14,000 persons living in Illinois purchased new cars. About $4 million in the state sales tax on the federal excise tax was paid into the Illinois state treasury during the four months.

Officials point out that there is nothing illegal in taxing a tax. But since the federal excise tax was ruled out, the state, they say, should return the money.

Originally, state officials told Illinois car dealers to go ahead and refund the money to the car buyers and then file a claim with the state. However, the dealers did not like this claim, and the matter was taken to the courts.

Assuming that the Assembly approves the legislation, what will happen probably is that the persons who purchased cars during the time period in question will have to file a claim with the state.

Happy Days Here Again—Orders Up

RETURNING BUSINESS prosperity is indicated by the large number of orders received at the Madison plant of the American Car and Foundry Co. There are rolling stock contracts for more than 4,000 railroad box cars to cost approximately $12,500,000.

At the Washington Theatre—a set of dishes given away. The Hal Lawrence Musical Comedy Company—12 people; mostly girls in new songs and an entirely new play. Next: Buck Jones in "Fardon My Nerve"; a bicycle will be given away at the matinee.

$16 Million Canal, Locks Bid

CONSTRUCTION OF AN eight-mile Mississippi River canal and 600-foot and 1,200-foot locks at Granite City is virtually assured now that a low bid of $16,626,000 has been received from the River Construction Corp., New York City. This bid and bids of $17,219,279 from a Kansas City firm and $19,782,368 from a Minnesota contractor will be sent to the chief of engineers in Washington. It is expected that the three-year project can be started in 30 days. The bids cover all phases, except that aggregate will be furnished by the government.

A beef cow produces one calf per year and she nurses it for about eight months. At that time, the calf is weaned and goes into a specially planned feeding and management program.

Some calves are allowed to grow for several months on diets that contain mostly forage and grain. Others are fed heavy grain rations.

But all calves eventually receive liberal amounts of grain for at least five months before they are slaughtered.

A typical beef steer goes to market at 18 months of age and weighs about 1,100 pounds. When the calf is slaughtered, about 60% of his live weight will be carcass. The rest is waste and byproducts.

About 70% to 75% of the carcass will be used as retail cuts in the grocery stores, depending on how closely fat is trimmed from the meat.

It is important to realize that a good beef—the tender, juicy kind—must have some fat trim around it. It's impossible to get marbling—the interspersing of fat in meat cuts—without get-

FANS CAN BACK THEM, STILL BE RESPECTFUL

IN ANSWER to a letter in The Forum on May 25 concerning park officials and umpires, where a man was asked not to return to the stands by a guard if he continued to harass the officials, he stated he was in no way involved.

But it is not exactly the way it happened, but no matter; let's get to the real point.

NOT ENOUGH PREPARED CANS FOR RECYCLING

I read with regret that the Coordinating Youth Service Recycling center at Nameoki Village is no longer able to accept cans. It was with regret I read—but not disbelief—because I've seen the mess building there.

My son said, after taking our cans, glass and newspapers to the "Mutt" why do you go to so much trouble? No one else does." By trouble, he meant cutting the ends out of cans, removing the labels, crushing them flat, and peeling the paper labels off.

Everyone went to the trouble and now the dumpster has been recalled and 15 youths are unemployed. It is a bad commentary on Granite City. People cluck their collective tongues over pollution and few if any know what or how to do anything about it.

We had a chance for recycling and we blew it. Granite City Steel Co. has the only community recycling center; other local can collection facilities are in the habit of using it.

To be sent to see for whom the bell tolls, brother. It tolls for me and them and all unborn thyreens. This good earth can't take much more.

The citizens of earth that are responsible for dumping trash at this recycling center can only laughingly be called "recyclers." It makes you wonder if there is any intelligent life left on this planet, doesn't it?

Appeal Rejected in Levee Board Misconduct Case

The Illinois Supreme Court refused Thursday to accept from St. Clair County an appeal of an Appellate Court ruling exonerating four trustees of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District of charges of misconduct in office.

The appeal had been requested by St. Clair County where the office prosecuted the case and won a circuit court conviction in September 1970. The trustees, one of whom is now dead, were charged with expending $169,000 of county funds without accounting for the money and for overpaying levee district attorneys.

Hearing June 5 On Elementary School Changes

A public hearing will be held by Granite City Board of Education at its June 5 meeting for parents of children involved in the realignment of elementary school boundaries arising from the opening of the Russell D. Johnson Elementary School in September.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Board of Education Office at 20th and Adams Streets.

Approximately 850 children will be assigned to different elementary schools in the fall, and because of the number of children involved the Board decided to conduct a public hearing so that all parents might have an opportunity to raise questions or comments. Parents of all children involved have been notified of the proposed changes.

Twelve of the 16 elementary schools are involved in the change. Johnson School is scheduled to open in the fall with an enrollment of 587 children from the present Logan, Maryville, Nameoki and Mitchell districts.

Ten classrooms are being eliminated at these four centers. Four of these rooms were in the former Logan Annex building which will be used next year as a pre-school center and the others rooms improved in stage areas, cafeterias and rented from churches.

Pulling Children in Wagon; Loses Purse

Mrs. Mary Carroll, 3807 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported at 7:45 p.m. Friday the theft of a white purse containing $80 in currency and papers.

She said while walking home from a store pulling her children in a wagon, a man stopped to help her at a curb at Faith Avenue. When she arrived home the purse was gone from the wagon. The man was described as between 35 and 40, about 5 feet 9 inches tall, 170 pounds, with a pocket-marked complexion.
